Heritage is our legacy from the past, what we live with today, and what we pass on to future generations. Our cultural and natural heritage are both irreplaceable sources of life and inspiration.

Places as unique and diverse as the wilds of East Africa's Serengeti, the Pyramids of Egypt, the Great Barrier Reef in Australia and the Baroque cathedrals of Latin America make up our world's heritage.

You can help by writing about your visits to World Heritage sites. Just as your hotel reviews help other travelers, your observations about World Heritage sites will help UNESCO preserve them.

WORLD HERITAGE SITES IN AFRICA

“Imagine an endless land of acacia and baobab trees, African grasses, giraffe, eland, zebra, wildebeest, lions, elephants, gazelles, buffalo and an incredible variety of birds. The Serengeti is everything when it comes to wildlife.”

— TripAdvisor Member, Africa

SERENGETI NATIONAL PARK, TANZANIA

The vast plains of the Serengeti comprise 1.5 million hectares of savannah. The annual migration to permanent water holes of vast herds of herbivores, followed by their predators, is one of the most impressive natural events in the world.

— TripAdvisor Members, Georgia and Brazil

HALONG BAY, VIETNAM

Halong Bay, in the Gulf of Tonkin, includes some 1,600 islands and islets, forming a spectacular seascape of limestone pillars. Because of their precipitous nature, most of the islands are uninhabited and unaffected by a human presence. The site's outstanding scenic beauty is complemented by its great biological interest.

“Visiting Vieux Québec is like time traveling to a very relaxing place two hundred years ago. This is the most charming town in North America: A 400-year-old city with many interesting boutiques, great restaurants and coffee shops, beautiful buildings and cobblestone streets.”

— TripAdvisor Member, San Francisco, Calif.

HISTORIC DISTRICT OF OLD QUEBEC, CANADA

Quebec was founded by the French explorer Champlain in the early 17th century. It is the only North American city to have preserved its ramparts, together with the numerous bastions, gates and defensive works that still surround Old Quebec. The Upper Town, built on the cliff, has remained the religious and administrative center, with its churches, convents and other monuments like the Dauphine Redoubt, the Citadel and Château Frontenac. Together with the Lower Town and its ancient districts, it forms an urban ensemble that is one of the best examples of a fortified colonial city.

Keep your eyes out for the rare Red-Necked parrot and your ears alert for the haunting Mountain Whistler.”

— TripAdvisor Member, Ottawa, Ontario

MORNE TROIS PITONS NATIONAL PARK, DOMINICA

Luxuriant natural tropical forest blends with scenic volcanic features of great scientific interest in this national park centered on the Morne Trois Pitons volcano. With its precipitous slopes and deeply incised valleys, hot springs, freshwater lakes, “boiling lake” and five volcanoes located on the park’s nearly 7,000 hectares, together with the richest biodiversity in the Lesser Antilles, Morne Trois Pitons National Park presents a rare combination of natural features of World Heritage value.

"By far one of the most beautiful cities I've ever visited. Truly spectacular. I felt as though I'd walked through a time-warp. The integrity of the buildings and streets from a by-gone era has been preserved with the utmost care. Antigua Guatemala feels like a living museum."

— TripAdvisor Member, Denver, Colo.

ANTIGUA, GUATEMALA

Antigua, the capital of the Captaincy-General of Guatemala, was founded in the early 16th century. Built 1,500 meters above sea level, in an earthquake-prone region, it was largely destroyed by an earthquake in 1773 but its principal monuments are still preserved as ruins. In the space of under three centuries the city, which was built on a grid pattern inspired by the Italian Renaissance, acquired a number of superb monuments.

HISTORIC FORTIFIED CITY OF CARCASSONNE, FRANCE

Since the pre-Roman period, a fortified settlement has existed on the hill where Carcassonne now stands. In its present form, it is an outstanding example of a medieval fortified town, with its massive defenses encircling the castle and the surrounding buildings, its streets and its fine Gothic cathedral. Carcassonne is also of exceptional importance because of the lengthy restoration campaign undertaken by Viollet-le-Duc, one of the founders of the modern science of conservation.

PLITVICE LAKES NATIONAL PARK, CROATIA

The waters flowing over the limestone and chalk have, over thousands of years, deposited travertine barriers, creating natural dams that in turn have created a series of beautiful lakes, caves and waterfalls. These geological processes continue today. The forests in the park are home to bears, wolves and many rare bird species.

PRE-HISPANIC TOWN OF UXMAL, MEXICO

The Mayan town of Uxmal, in Yucatan, was founded c. A.D. 700. It had some 25,000 inhabitants and is considered one of the high points of Mayan art and architecture. The layout of the buildings, which date from between 700 and 1000, reveals a knowledge of astronomy. The Pyramid of the Soothsayer, as the Spaniards called it, dominates the ceremonial center, which has well-designed buildings decorated with a profusion of symbolic motifs and sculptures depicting Chaac, the god of rain.

“The magic of Petra is the total scale and intricateness of the area. Everyone knows the famous treasury building, but that’s just the start of an epic journey through a jaw-dropping city of buildings and human feats of engineering.”

— TripAdvisor Member, Birmingham, U.K.

PETRA, JORDAN

Inhabited since prehistoric times, this Nabataean caravan-city, situated between the Red Sea and the Dead Sea, was an important crossroads between Arabia, Egypt and Syria-Phoenicia. Petra is half-built, half-carved into the rock and is surrounded by mountains riddled with passages and gorges. It is one of the world’s most famous archaeological sites, where ancient Eastern traditions blend with Hellenistic architecture.

IGUAÇU NATIONAL PARK, BRAZIL

The park shares with Iguazú National Park in Argentina one of the world’s largest and most impressive waterfalls, extending over some 2,700 meters. It is home to many rare and endangered species of flora and fauna, among them the giant otter and the giant anteater. The clouds of spray produced by the waterfall are conducive to the growth of lush vegetation.

"It is such a joy just to gaze at the Opera House from different angles, at different times of day (and night). It didn't disappoint from up close, either. Such a pleasure to run your hands over the concrete bricks and ceramic tiles. And the inside was stunning, too. Superb acoustics."

— TripAdvisor Member, Chennai, India

SYDNEY OPERA HOUSE, AUSTRALIA

Inaugurated in 1973, the Sydney Opera House is a great architectural work of the 20th century that brings together multiple strands of creativity and innovation in both architectural form and structural design. A great urban sculpture set in a remarkable waterscape, at the tip of a peninsula projecting into Sydney Harbour, the building has had an enduring influence on architecture. In 1957, when the project of the Sydney Opera House was awarded by an international jury to Danish architect Jørn Utzon, it marked a radically new approach to construction.

GRAND CANYON, UNITED STATES

Carved out by the Colorado River, the Grand Canyon (nearly 1,500 meters deep) is the most spectacular gorge in the world. Located in the state of Arizona, it cuts across the Grand Canyon National Park. Its horizontal strata retrace the geological history of the past two billion years. There are also prehistoric traces of human adaptation to a particularly harsh environment.

Why is TripAdvisor partnering with UNESCO's World Heritage Centre?

TripAdvisor has pledged to support UNESCO's World Heritage Centre in protecting the places around the world that matter. TripAdvisor is able to provide technological and financial assistance that can expand UNESCO's World Heritage Centre's efforts, and wants to engage its 25 million monthly visitors to act on behalf of World Heritage.

How is TripAdvisor helping UNESCO's World Heritage Centre?

TripAdvisor will engage its large and passionate community to help in several ways:

- Encourage the contribution of reviews and opinions from its millions of members to provide much needed information about the condition of nearly 900 World Heritage sites so that these may be better protected.
- Feature a contest to send a team of deserving winners to visit, learn about and contribute to conservation efforts at specific World Heritage sites, the places they want to protect most, and encourage donations to help conserve and support sustainable and responsible tourism.
